Please accept my sincere condolences on the passing of your beloved father. The death of someone who has been important in your life always creates an absence. When my grandmother passed after a long fought battle with cancer it was rejoicing in the memory of her life that gave my heart peace. One of my fondest memories of Mr. Beasley is from way back in High School how he would tease me and Anthony about the ladies when we would go out. Then he would hand the keys over to the yellow Mark 5 with this look. We knew that we better act right or else. I will hold you and your family in my thoughts and prayers as you move through the process of grieving and healing. Please know that there are many like me who are thinking of you.-Patrick and family Manvel, TX US

Dear Family;To every thing there is a season, and a time to every purpose under the heaven. This is our time to mourn as well as our time to rejoice! There is obviously no good time or way for someone whom you care about to die but Uncle John is now where he no longer is pained and for that I thank God. I will continue to keep you in my prayers that can endure this season in your life.Unfortunately, I cannot be there with you as it would be so much better if I could convey my condolences in person. But at the very least I want you to know that I love and care for each of you. Please let me know if there is anything I can do.Lovingly,Pamm Silver Spring, MD US

Dear Ms. West: Just a note to let you know I've been thinking about you and praying for your family after hearing about your father's death. I didn't know your maiden name was Beasley – my nieces and nephew who are mixed – are also named Beasley. Their grandparents are from Mayfield, Kentucky, and their names are Robert and Shirley Beasley. We do truly miss you at the prison. God be with you and your family in your time of sorrow.
