Dearest Sherbear and Hannah I'm sorry for your loss. We rejoice in knowing his body was made new as he heard those words we all long to hear, well done my faithful servant! A part of you sis is gone , and it will be very hard to carry on, you focus on what he instructed you to do in his final days here on earth, stay strong in the Lord as I know you will , you showed that daily as you cared for him in his time of weakness, Hannah his instructions to you, continue to support and be there for your mom, as you carried the family with your joyous laugh and strong belief in God, your quite time in prayer with my sister as she wondered how she could find the strength to be his caregiver, you took on the role of a true child of God by encouragement!! am so very proud of you both for honoring Derbear's wishes to meet our Lord and Savior at his earthly home! He said he believed God would heal him and I struggled with that , then God showed me, " I am faithful to my word, Terbear, I did heal him, his body is new, his earthly pain is gone, he suffers no more!"Praise God!As We approach the Christmas time, The celebration of the birth of Jesus, Time spent together, family meals, visiting and fellowship, and the Exchanging of gifts, you're mourning the loss, take a step back and look at the most powerful, everlasting gift one could receive, Eternal life with God. And remember what Derbear said!!! We will meet again in heaven someday!! love you both,Tear bear
