“ I will never forget you baby. You will always be in my heart. I started out as your nurse and turned into your friend and I'm forever grateful for our relationship. Thank you for allowing me into your life as you trusted in me. Rest in heaven until we meet again. Rest well

“ Andraya,
Where do I begin? Well let me say 4th grade we met at Washington school and we were inseparable! From press on nails, popsicles, singing R&B songs trying see who can hit the note the best! Haha you were always so fun to be around! From going out to eat at the chinese buffets, we always had fun! As we entered into adulthood we always found our way back to each other! Miles apart when you moved out of state, we stayed connected! We would laugh together, cry together, and grow together! No matter what we had each other's back's through it all. These last several years for you were a battle but through it all you stayed in good spirits with a smile on your face! You were a fighter and I will forever be proud of you! Our last conversation was 12 days ago and our last words we said were we loved each other. So, I am saying again I love you my dear sister. May you Rest In Heaven My angel
